

This Spring Term Zebra class will be learning about the topic "Textures and Patterns". For this topic we will be exploring different materials and talking about their characteristics using Makaton signing and symbols to describe them. We will be observing our surroundings to identify things that show different patterns and textures (from outdoors exploring nature such as leaves and flowers, to indoors exploring the food we eat). We will be very creative using the different materials and objects that we encounter to create art. Our focused story for this term will be "The Day the Crayons Quit" by Drew Daywalt, and we will be learning about the story by exploring colours and where we can find them.
