

This term in Phoenix we will continue working towards our ASDAN accreditations. In communication, we continue to work on making choices, using our preferred means of communication: objects, symbols or technology.

We will be taking part in attention bucket sessions. We will be joining in with our sensory story for the term “Charlie and the Chocolate Factory”.

We will be getting artistic to create some of the characters from the book.

In cognition sessions, we will be experiencing different textures.

We will also be working on developing our number skills doing activities such as playing boccia and skittles.
