

This Spring Term Zebra class will be learning about "Textures and Patterns". We will be exploring different materials and items -around the school environment- and talking about their characteristics, using Makaton signing and symbols to describe them, and also to help to improve our sensory exploration through our five senses. This term we will be working with the story: "The Mixed- Up Chameleon" by Eric Carle, which is related to animals and their different features which we will learn about as well.
