

We are excited for Spring in Phoenix. We are focusing on personnel hygiene, the natural environment, and enterprise for Valentine's day. By combining all these things, we are making bath bombs out of Lavender, fleece neck warmers filled with rice, and recycled jar candle holders. We are looking forward to doing our Wizard of Oz production in January, even though that story finished last term. We are also hoping to go and see Wicked in the West End. Our new sensory story is Romeo and Juliet, going along with our theme of 'Speaking Up and Having my Say'. It is exciting to watch students be able to make choices, have their say, and solve problems in everyday life.
