

First of all, we would like to welcome our two newest students to Eagles class for this half term. They will join us at a busy time as we get ready for the next academic year. Our semi-formal learners will be carrying on with their Progression modules in ASDAN English and Maths, and our new learners will start to look at their Introduction modules. We will also be teaching Entry levels to our formal learners, which is exciting. Our Life and Work Skills accreditations will continue, and this year we will start a new Life Skills topic called You and Yourself, which will be very useful to our learners in the future. We will resume our Teas in the Trees café and Busy Birds Bakery as part of our Enterprise activities, and begin doing a termly Eagles Class Charity appeal – charity to be determined. We will resume designing and making clay sculptures in our Trinity Art Award (as we sadly ran out of time for this, this half term), and we will also join the English National Orchestra's Finish This project – so watch this space!
